DANCE

Undergraduates passionate about dance are offered professional dance training through physical, intellectual, and aesthetic engagement with dance in the context of a comprehensive liberal arts education.

Our rigorous requirements engage students in a diverse curriculum that includes a carefully designed progression of technique courses, in addition to the theoretical and applied courses in Dance History, Composition, Improvisation, Dance Media and Technology, Kinesiology, and Production.

Students will work with our acclaimed and dedicated faculty who nurture and challenge them to hone their technical skill and define their individual artistic voice, preparing them for professional and academic careers in dance.

Our alumni are found around the globe as performers, choreographers, dance educators, arts administrators, scholars, and solo artists.

Our BFA programs require an audition and separate acceptance into East Carolina University.

BFA Dance Performance & Choreography

Preparing you for a professional performing career, equal emphasis is placed on the core techniques of ballet, modern, jazz, and tap allowing for versatility and specialization.

Additionally, you will develop professional skills to blend precise technical choreography to meet the demands of a competitive arts industry.

Studio classes are augmented with Master Classes by guest artists such as:

Jennifer Archibald	NY Ballet Theatre
David Dorfman	Carlo Pacis
Michel Kouakou	David Parsons
BODYTRAFFIC	Doug Varone
Dance of Theatre of Harlem

BFA Dance Education

A rigorous four-year program resulting in a BFA in Dance and a North Carolina initial, A Level, teaching license.

In addition to technique and choreography instruction, you will have courses in education plus a year-long internship under the guidance of a recognized dance educator.
